Dantzick, Sept. 12. N. S.

THey write from Poland, That the greateſt part of the Muſcovite Forces have paſs'd the Neiſter, and that General Ronne continues poſted at Zwanieck, with the Body of Forces under his Command. The Articles of the late Treaty are made publick; but it is ſaid they are not to be executed till the King of Sueden is return'd into his own Dominions. The Czar of Muſcovy arriv'd at Thorn on the Seventh, under a Diſcharge of the Cannon of that Place, whither he was attended by Prince Ragotzky, the Grand Chancellor of Muſcovy, and ſeveral other Perſons of Quality. His Majeſty propoſeth to continue there a few Days; after which, he will proceed to Elbing, where he will wait 'till the Return of an Expreſs he has ſent to Wolfenbuttel. Our Magiſtrates are appointing Deputies to wait on that Prince, and compliment him upon his Arrival at Elbing: And to Morrow will be obſerv'd here as a Day of publick Rejoicing, on Account of the late Peace.

Vienna, Sept. 12. N. S. We have this Day receiv'd Letters from Conſtantinople, dated the Tenth of the laſt Month, with a large Relation of the Turkiſh, and Muſcovite Affairs, being the ſame in Subſtance with our former Accounts. The Horſe of Rumelia, Commanded by Haſſan Baſſaw, are appointed to conduct the King of Sueden into his own Dominions through Poland; and it is ſaid the Prince of Tartary is likewiſe to accompany his Majeſty with a Body of Forces belonging to that Nation. The Turks having ravag'd the Province of Moldavia, to be reveng'd on the Hoſpodar, who had declar'd for the Czar of Muſcovy, are retiring towards Conſtantinople. The Count de Metternich, Envoy Extraordinary from the King of Pruſſia to this Court, ſet out from hence Yeſterday, in order to repair to Francfort, where he is appointed to aſſiſt on the behalf of his Pruſſian Majeſty, at the Election of an Emperor. The Baron d'Urbich Plenipotentiary from the Czar of Muſcovy, having been much indiſpoſed with the Gout, is gone to the Baths at Carlsbad, and has left his Brother here with the Character of Reſident from his Czariſh Majeſty. The Seventh Inſtant was the Queen of Portugals Birth-day, whereupon the Court went out of Mourning for that Day, and the Empreſs Regent receiv'd the Compliments of all the Principal Officers and Foreign Miniſters on that Occaſion. This Court being much diſpleas'd at the Conduct of the Griſons, in relation to Monſieur Maſner, have given him freſh Aſſurances of an effectual Protection; and publiſh'd a new Order, prohibiting all Commerce with the Griſons.

Hanover, Sept. 22. N. S. The Duke of Wolfenbuttel, who is at preſent at Aix la Chapelle, has promis'd upon his Return from thence, to continue a few Days in this Court: And we hear the Hereditary Prince of Muſcovy, and the Princeſs Loviſa, the Mother of his intended Bride, propoſe likewiſe to come hither, in order to meet him. It is not yet known where the Nuptials are to be celebrated: The King of Poland is deſirous it ſhould be at Dreſden; but the Duke of Wolfenbuttel, the Ladies Grandfather, is more inclin'd to Brunſwick; for which Reaſon, it is thought the Choice of the Place will be remitted to his Czariſh Majeſty, who propoſeth to aſſiſt at the Ceremony. Our laſt Advices from Roſtock import, That ſome Swediſh Troops belonging to the Garriſon of Stralſund had attack'd a Party of Danes as they were Foraging,, and taken ſeveral Priſoners. The Armies have not yet undertaken any thing; but it is believ'd their firſt Attempt will be upon the Iſle of Rugen, whither the Swediſh Cavalry was retir'd.

Hague, Sept. 25. N. S. An Account of the late Peace between his Czariſh Majeſty and the Turks, having been tranſmitted directly from the Court of Muſcovy to the Ambaſſador here; on the Twenty-third that Miniſter notify'd the ſame to the States-General. Our Letters from Hamburgh adviſe, that the Czar arriv'd at Elbing on the Twelfth, and had taken a Reſolution not to evacuate Aſoph, or any of the other Places comprehended in the late Treaty, 'till the Turks have oblig'd the King of Sueden to depart out of their Territories: And as his Swediſh Majeſty inſiſts upon being conducted into his own Dominions, by a Body of Twenty thouſand Men, the Czar of Muſcovy has order'd the Troops that were marching from Poland to halt, and diſpute the Paſſage, in caſe that Prince ſhould come attended with ſo great a number of Forces. Some Letters from Poland adviſe, that his Swediſh Majeſty intended, before he left the Turkiſh Dominions, to repair to Conſtantinople, in order to remonſtrate againſt the late Proceedings of the Grand Vizir, who had thrice refus'd to admit him to an Audience. Monſieur d'Urbich, Ambaſſador from his Czariſh Majeſty to the Court of Vienna, is recall'd from that Employment, at the Inſtances as well of the Empreſs Regent, as of the Kings of Denmark and Poland. Our Letters from Hamburgh add, that General Scholten had offer'd to the Allies in Pomerania, to deliver into their Hands the Town of Wiſmar in Twenty-two Days, and that of Stralſund in Thirteen after opening the Trenches, provided he may be ſupply'd with all things neceſſary for that Service; but it is not yet known what Reſolutions have been taken in that Affair. The Country of Pomerania being not in a Condition to furniſh ſufficient Forage and Proviſion for the Subſiſtance of the Daniſh and Saxon Armies, we hear the King of Pruſſia has, upon the Inſtances of the Allies, permitted his Subjects to ſupply them with what they can ſpare, out of his Dominions. On the Twenty-ſecond Inſtant, Monſieur Sintelo left this Place, being appointed to repair with his former Character to the Court at Berlin; and the Day following the Hereditary Prince of Heſſe Darmſtadt ſet out from hence in order to return home. This Evening the Lord North and Gray arriv'd here from the Army, whither the Earl of Albermarle, who was this Morning in Conference with Grand Penſionary Heinſius, intends to return very ſpeedily.
